Nothing Seems to Work

Volume IV

Never Mind the Bollocks

I feel bad whenever I speak obnoxiously loud. My relatives often find themselves shushing me so I can lower my voice.

I don't think this is something that happens to extroverts as well. It is only us who don't speak often who haven't learn to watch the volume of our voice.

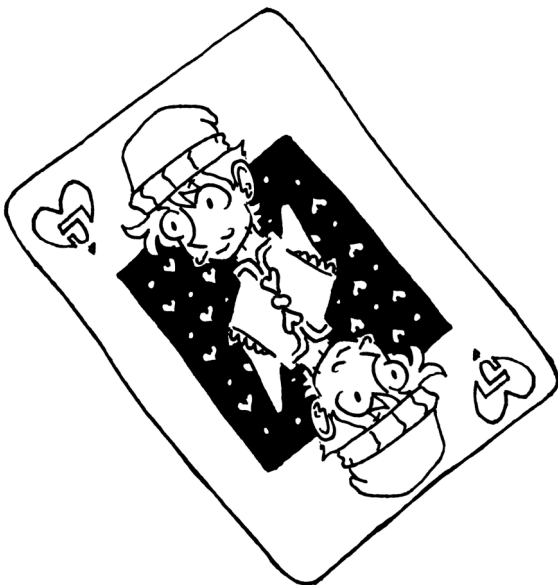

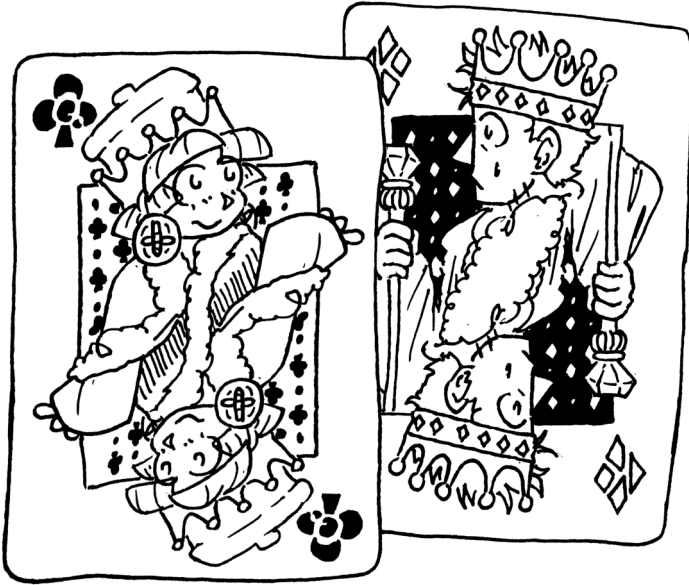

The great irony of life is that no matter how much you think you are wiser than everyone else, the heart of the matter is we are all full of shit.
